Weekly speech communication and everyday skills record

Child _____ Week beginning _____

Caregiver _____ Therapist review date _____

How to use this worksheet

Choose two to four short quests each day. A useful session can last 10 to 30 minutes and may be divided across the day. Check participation and record communication in any form, including speech, sounds, gestures, pointing, signs, pictures, or AAC.

Celebrate attempts rather than perfect performance. Stop, shorten, or change an activity when your child shows distress. A request for a break, stop, help, or all done is a successful communication attempt.

Daily rhythm

Body Quest	Communication Quest	Hand Skills Quest	Everyday Helper	Celebrate about 5 min	5 to 10 min	5 to 10 min	about 5 min	preferred activity

Communication reminders

- ☐ Join his preferred activity
- ☐ Wait quietly for 5 to 10 seconds
- ☐ Respond quickly to the attempt
- ☐ Avoid repeated demands to say a word
- ☐ Model one simple word or picture
- ☐ Accept every meaningful communication form
- ☐ Expand slightly such as car to car go
- ☐ Do not require eye contact

Safety and scope

This record supports play and daily routines. It does not replace evaluation or treatment by a pediatrician, speech language pathologist, or occupational therapist. Use age-safe materials and close supervision. Do not add weighted items, brushing, joint compression, spinning, or other specialized sensory treatments unless his occupational therapist recommends them after assessment.

Contact his clinician promptly for loss of previously acquired skills, choking or swallowing concerns, new weakness or unusual movements, severe feeding problems, or frequent self-injury.
